BOOK SYNOPSIS

We just cant get enough of the funny stuff kids say. We share our own childrens gems with friends and family. If were smart, we write down these scraps of accidental poetry. And we turn them into books. Martin Bruckner is an artist and father who not only recorded the sayings of his daughter, Harper, but used each as the inspiration for a work of art. After posting them on social media, Bruckner became the artist that other parents sought out to transform their own childrens funny words into artwork. Collected here are 100 mini-posters of pure delight, a marriage of the childrens surprising wisdom and the artists nimble style, plus the occasional backstory that amplifies both. Every parent will recognize the spirited declarations of personality--"Im training to be a wolf." The endearing mangling of language--"Mommy, I dont need your mouth to talk to me right now." The creative mixing of metaphors--"I need a tissue to wipe my feelings." Those precious, heartbreaking outbursts without guile or filters--"I only love you at the toy store." Illustrated with sweetness and whimsy, each is a window into the irresistible innocence of childhood, even if the sentiment is "Dad, please wipe the bum of this beautiful princess."
